Captain Vivian Bullwinkel Perpetual Trophy

Spirit of the Carnival

Vivian Bullwinkel was an Australian Army Nursing Sister who became known for her survival of the Banka Island Massacre during World War II. She was the sole survivor of the massacre, where Japanese soldiers killed 21 of her fellow nurses on Radji Beach, Banka Island. Bullwinkel feigned death to survive the initial attack and later cared for a wounded British soldier before they both surrendered to the Japanese. She endured internment as a prisoner of war before being liberated and dedicating her life to honouring those who perished and to humanitarian work.
